2)NAAC Data collection

On 23rd May 2021 I received the excel sheet of with number of 10 students whose data I had to collect. I called the past batch students for data collection. I called them and asked the information of their WhatsApp number, email, what are they doing currently, are they doing studying, or homemaker, what is their current qualification, are they studying, if they are studying, what is the name of their Institute and what are they studying. If they are working then what is the name of their organization, their designation, number of years working in current organization, total number of work experience years, current salary and ask them for the proof of studying or working whatever they are doing. Letter of appointment if they are working and fee receipt, degree certificate or Id card if they are studying. After the collection data was done we filled the excel sheet with the given data of students and submit it to our respective teachers.

ACCOUNTING INTERNSHIP

January – April 2020, August 2020- February 2021

Rohit Chandan & Co.

Rohit Chandan & Co. was established in 1900 with the goal of providing accounting services to the individual, stores and the companies all over Maharashtra. The company's objective is to audit for various individual, stores and the companies to ensure they gained maximum profit. Rohit Chandan & Co. is a private company incorporated on Monday, 01 January 1900. It is classified as Non-government company and is registered at Registrar of Companies, Mumbai. Director of ROHIT CHANDAN & CO. is ROHIT HARISHCHANDRA. The company plays an important role in financial statement. I decided to intern with the company because their objective was similar to the goal I am pursuing.

My role at Rohit Chandan & Co. was to update the monthly & quarterly returns in gst government portal and successfully file their returns in that particular date. Whereas I also learned about the income tax returns to download their acknowledgement, their computations on Winman CA software. I also learned about how to file company's TDS in Quarterly wise. Additional duties included collecting data, creating auditing reports and presenting findings to my Director.

While I was interning at Rohit Chandan & Co., I gained the ability to conduct the sales and profit content. I found analyzing and conducting content very important in helping me enhance auditing sales content. I thought this process of auditing required the knowledge of advanced concepts, but it helped me understand how to conduct gap analysis by auditing numbers, processing and measuring form.

Rohit Chandan & Co. has introduced me to the industry. I've learned and known much about the work procedure and overall I realized that I needed to develop confidence in accounting details what I meant to say is if I finished checking numbers at a faster pace, as reconciling statement was time consuming.

In conclusion, I believe I learned a lot from my supervisors and about accounting in general and their process.

Conclusion

The chemical industry is one of the key industries in developed countries. In chemical industry, the probably most important sub-group is the basic chemical industry. The basic chemical industry produces a wide range of products which are used as raw materials in almost all other industries. The product RL,GP,LV,ISO help to make basic slides, Doors coatings as well as other speciality chemicals. Most of the produced chemicals are commodities, i.e. products with precise chemical and physical specifications which are sold in huge quantities. Multiple of these production slides and boards are typically centralized at production sites to exploit economies of scope. These production sites form a network with interdependent product and energy flows. Larger scaled chemical companies run multiple of those integrated production sites which are again interrelated by product flows. Hence, basic chemical companies are faced with a highly competitive market environment and a highly complex production system. Therefore, companies in this industry particularly benefit from an improved management of their integrated, multi-level production networks. In literature a lot of work is presented proposing a manifold of approaches for (almost) all aspects of the management of such production networks. In the last decade, increasing effort was dedicated to the development of integrated planning and management approaches to exploit cost-saving potentials due to coordinated planning and management.
