ABC FORMAT

A=B=C

- A stands for Activating Event (boyfriend jilting girl)
- B stands for beliefs and thoughts about the situation ("I am worthless", "I will die an old maid on the shelf", "He should not have done this to me", "This is not fair", "He ought to be punished")
- C stands for consequences- feelings and behaviours (felt angry & depressed and could not eat, sleep or concentrate on studies)

It is not A (cause) that produces C (consequences), but thoughts and attitudes (B) about the situation that is responsible for producing distressing feelings.

Certain people are bad and wicked and must be punished

Disputation

- A bad act does not make a bad person
- Man is a fallible animal and is expected to make mistakes
- Punishing a person causes resentment and rebelliousness

Instead

- If you can't stop people from making mistakes then get philosophically engaged in their behaviour
- Accept criticism of self if true and improve your behaviour but reject it if no objective evidence

EFFECT - +

EFFECT	Protagonist	Protagonist
COGNITION	He wished that the teacher wouldn't see it cause for a mistake I committed	He thought/imagined that the teacher wouldn't see it cause he is not perfect
EMOTION	Anger, anxiety	Annoyance, apprehension
BEHAVIOUR	I'm going to tell everyone what a bad teacher she is.	I rationalised that it is the teachers duty to help students understand their mistakes, so I'm going to tell her that I will do my best not to make the mistake again. I will take care in the future not to make mistakes.

VENUE: Online Webex Meeting

TIME: 11 AM-12:00 PM

OBJECTIVES: To raise awareness about the Protection of Property Rights for Women and the role of the Maharashtra State Commission for the same.

To allow the students to have a one-to-one conversation with a lawyer and be made aware of their rights.

METHODOLOGY: Face-to-face interaction with Advocate Gauri Chhabaria who gave a non-interruptive lecture on the property rights issue.

OVERVIEW: The guest lecturer was introduced by Ms. Susan Ashokan.

Adv. Gauri Chhabaria marked her presence with an assuring quote from Savitribai Phule “The future belongs to us”. Being an active member of the Maharashtra State Commission for Women, she introduced the students to its structure, Functionaries, and the powers it has along with the mechanism. The location of the building of the commission in Bandra was disclosed and the availability of counsellors was revealed. She defined the meaning of a will, inheritance, and succession, in simpler words.

She then justified the absence of a civil court system in India, as there is an absence of a Uniform Civil Code throughout the nation. This absence forces the law to discriminate against the rights of women, according to the religion they belong to. The rights of women belonging to their personal religion was revealed.

The latest cases of the supreme court latest as of 28th January 2022, were read out to the students.

She ended her lecture by making students aware of the helpline number, and counseling cell, for their personal help, and a powerful slogan of: “Today's naari is sab pe bhaari”.

OUTCOME: The students learned a great deal about their rights as daughter/wife of the house, as the immediate heir of the father's or husband's properties.
