Testimonies of the Students

- 1) BMS Students- The first exhibition we put up in our college was of cosmetics and clothing. While deciding about the shop we were all very confused many question woke in our minds but we ended with a decision of putting cosmetics and cloths. It was a very great experience we all enjoyed a lot doing the group work also we learnt many things from it from bringing each n every things we all worked in a team. In this 2 days our communication skills definitely increased a lot

Our experience in 2 days of exhibition was very nice .after all we learn so much skills which further we can develop ourselves for entrepreneurs. Besides taking theoretical knowledge we also take step to practical knowledge. We enjoyed making sales and profit .we get to know some basic of marketing and management.

2) B.Com (AFI) Student (Mehreen Mansoori) - On day students had put up tuck shop for different kind of product like Accessories, Pakistani suits collection, Makeup products etc.. I had rented this products from the dealer for the sale. It was my first experience where I came across the customer and I understood that every customer has a different set of requirements I could understand customers point of view. I was slowly learning the communication skills that I need to know while talking to a customers I wish to setup a business of Pakistani royal collections and various collections for which it had been a first step for being an young entrepreneur it has develop my confidence and know . I wish to learn more entrepreneur skills and setup my own business before I graduate I would like to thank N.I.E.D.I.C for setting a bazar and giving me the opportunity to discover my new site and entrepreneur.

The Inaugural session was held on 12th Sept 2020 and the Chief Guest for the Programme was Ms Preeti Bhagat – President, Inner Wheel Club of Bombay Airport. The participants for the Inaugural programme were Members of Inner Wheel Club, Mr BR Venkatesh and Mrs Tejaswini Venkatesh, Entrepreneurship Promoters and Proprietors of MBTLA Training Academy. The Inaugural Programme included Speeches of Prof Sunita Sharma, Smt Himadri Nanavati : Chairperson Managing Committee, MNWC. Ms Preeti Bhagat, Dr Rajshree Trivedi, Dr. Santosh Kaul Kak (Principals of Both Colleges), Dr Rita Patil spoke on activities of NIEDIC . Mr B.R Venkatesh gave an introduction of MBTLA Academy. The Inaugural session ended with Vote of Thanks given by Dr. Nooruzia Qazi.

14th Sept 2020.: The Programme started with Ms Tejaswini sharing her life story with everyone. The EDP training helps to transform a person's life into a whole new which includes his thinking capabilities, behaviour towards others and encourages inactive persons to become active ones. The students were encouraged to answer questions like what are you good at? What are you afraid from?.

15th Sept 2020: In this session Mr Venkatesh sir along with Ms Tejaswini explained the students Importance of Entrepreneurship for the country .

This was followed by a discussion on Traits of Entrepreneurship – to increase bonding , talking skills, communication skills, Developing networking, connecting right people at right age, problem solving skills etc. The participants were asked to rate themselves on the scale of 1 – 5. This was followed by setting goals for themselves for each quality, which was followed by an action plan.

17th Sept 2020: In this session students were explained how to start a business, and basic things required to do a business. Risk taking is the biggest quality .

We have to start with idea generation . Success is hidden in Ideas. Every business whether big or small has to go through this process of Ideas generation. Students were given an experience of how to generate Ideas.

18th Sept 2020: Ideas in itself contain meaning, mantra of successful business. Our house itself gives ideas of various types of business. Observation is the key of getting ideas.

e.g if washing clothes with hands is a problem than washing with machine is a solution to that problem. In short find a problem and than find a solution to that. Anyone can become an entrepreneur by becoming a problem solver.

21st Sept 2020: The whole group was divided into smaller groups of 4, with 2 students from each college. The groups sat down together to discuss the problems they were facing around. Each group was given a name. Mr Venkatesh started the activity of Hobbies, skills, and qualities. A discussion was initiated on difference between skills and qualities.. This was followed by Newspaper activity.the participants were taught how to find business information from newspaper. How business could be developed by solving problems faced by students were also discussed.

22nd Sept 2020: The topic for discussion was Idea Generation taking newspaper as base different ideas were generated like printing business, packing etc. Newspaper also generates critical thinking, reading, and writing. A newspaper shows how we can grow our business. A PPT presentation was shown named Scamper. The PPT had 7 points but Tejaswini only explained first point. – Substitute. It tells us about what resources, materials can we substitute to enhance the product and the process.

23rd Sept, 2020:The topic of discussion was Business Idea.Different examples of business idea were given like in college if all girls are using recharge card, then if a counter is opened in the college canteen will earn money for institution . stories of how manikchand started his business were narrated.Different examples like food centre,health & fitness centre were given.

24th Sept, 2020: The topic of discussion was Market Research. What all needs to be researched about the market like customers, competitors, price of the product, manpower etc. The role of Transportation was also discussed. The concept of Product Life Cycle was also explained.

29th Sept 2020: All the groups were given home work to do marketing research of the products selected by them. The groups collected information about the raw materials to be used for their products. They were explained about different types of Organisations – Private Firms, Partnership Firm, Sole Proprietor and Company form of Organisation. The teams were also asked to explore about their Product – customers, competitors, license, financial suppliers, Government Policies, Promotion, etc.

Staff Study Circle (An IQAC Initiative) of Maniben Nanavati Women's College organize Orientation Session for Faculty

Jan 28, 2022, 11.00 AM

A faculty orientation session was jointly organised by The Nanavati Innovation and Entrepreneurship Development Incubation Centre & Staff Study Circle of Maniben Nanavati Women's College under the mentor mentee program of Institution's Innovation Council (IIC) for the Entrepreneurship development activities to be conducted in college. We are a registered member of IIC. and Dr. Bhavna Ambudkar is our mentor. Total 37 teachers attended the session and certificates were given to the attendees. The basic aim of this orientation session was to enlighten all the faculty members on how they can contribute towards developing an entrepreneurship culture on campus.

Apart from students, the teacher, parents and other members of society can also be a part of the entrepreneurship cell of our college.

Our mentor Dr. Bhavna Ambudkar informed all the faculty members regarding various guidelines to be followed while forming a start-up.

She also guided us on how we can encourage students to think about having a start-up through the syllabus that we teach. We can develop customised teaching & training material for start-ups. Teaching methods can involve case study, organising competitions, boot camps, etc for generating innovative ideas.

We must recognise outstanding ideas related to start-ups. SPOC mechanism should be created in the institute.

Also she emphasised on an important aspect of assessing & monitoring the end result of all our activities and recording it. Measuring success of the start-up on the basis of sustainability, social impact, finance, technology, commercial success etc.

Towards the end a question & answer session was held where Bhavna ma'am addressed queries raised by staff members.

Euntra Bizz - An entrepreneurial initiative

The department has initiated "Euntra Bizz" as entrepreneurial event every year since 2017 for the students of second and third year BMS. The aim of this event is to identify various challenges faced by the entrepreneurs. Also it aims to incorporate the management skills required to become an entrepreneur right from planning to execution.

The outcome: The students were able to execute their ideas by putting up stalls in the college campus, selling products ranging from food products to accessories to clothing, also apply marketing skills and earn profits out of it.

Department Management Studies has Initiated "Euntra Bizz" As Entrepreneurial Initiative Event Every Year Since 2017

Nanavati Innovation Entrepreneurship Development Incubation Centre (NIEDIC)

Nanavati Innovation Entrepreneurship Development Centre in collaboration with Bite Delight and Euntra Bizz organized Bazaar on 4th and 5th February 2020 for exhibiting food stalls to clothing and Jewellery. The students experienced the entrepreneurship skills.

Bite Delite

Entrepreneurship: Bite Delite practical is experimental learning in semester VI. It is a unique initiative. In this practical, students cook and sell snacks. The profits of the sale are shared between students and department. This small income generated is used for departmental expenses. The dual purpose of giving students a first-hand experience of entrepreneurship and generating funds for the department is achieved. Also at the yearly fair of BNCDC, the department pays for one stall. Interested girls sell food and they make enough profit to repay the stall charges beyond the profit for themselves.

Department Food and Nutrition has Initiated “Bite Delite” Practical is Experiential Learning in which students Cook and Sell Snacks

Campus Breeze

Date: March 2018 issue

Target Group: DC English Advanced Learners

Name of the Faculty: Department of English

No of students: 7 FYBA DC English Students

Objectives: Campus Breeze is a bi-annual In-house Department of English Magazine created by the Advance Learners to showcase the creativity of the students of their class. Students are involved in creating the layout as well as composing creative pieces for the magazine. The magazine documents activities conducted by the department over the course of the semester.

Methodology: Students under the meticulous guidance of the faculty members write articles, poetry, and essays along with showcasing their talents such as drawing, painting, sketching etc and send out their contribution to be published into the magazine. The editors are responsible for editing the documents and preparing the overall layout of the magazine. The magazine is then published after careful rearrangement of the narratives and creativity.

Outcome: The Advanced Learners of the Department of English get an opportunity to portray their creativity. It encourages them to build on their strengths and confidently showcase it to the world. The magazine aims at promoting the talent of the students.

SATRANGI...HAQ SE!

SATRANGI...Haq Se, is a student-led initiative to provide a safe space for the young women of MNWC to open their hearts and their minds in an ever increasing discourse of gender, orientation and sexuality. It has a mandate to uphold and safeguard the emotions and mental health of all students with their orientations, in Maniben Nanavati Women's College (MNWC). We work to ensure all our fellow mates are protected, acknowledged and educated about their emotions, focusing on mates left behind by inequality, social progress and love.

It aims to be able bring about equality and improve the emotional rights situation of LGBTQ+ people in MNWC. For the many young women at MNWC, it will create a safe emotional space for all regardless of their sexual orientation. The committee provide opportunities to engage in making MNWC a place which everyone, regardless of their sexual orientation or gender identity, can live free from hatred, prejudice and discrimination. It was inaugurated on 9th March 2020 as part of the Women's day Celebration at MNWC.

An ICSSR sponsored International Conference on "Use of Digital Technology in Service Sector: Beyond Metro" was organized jointly by the P.G. Department of Economics, SNDT Women's University, Mumbai, Department of Commerce & Economics, Maniben Nanavati Women's College, Mumbai and Indian Economic Association on 28th & 29th September, 2018. The venue of the conference was Maniben Nanavati Women's College, Mumbai.

In the Inaugural session of the Conference after the formal rituals Dr. D. K. Madaan, secretary of IEA spoke about the Indian Economic Association and the theme of the conference. The Keynote Address was given by Dr. Pushpa Woods, she mainly spoke on Challenges of GST, Lack of Knowledge and Investment products becoming more and more complicated in the economy. She further added that in metro cities we think we know better, but this is incorrect. Though we are educated in urban areas but beyond metro at smaller places people have developed their own tools of understanding. As we move really truly digital let us make everyone educated and teach them how to apply that education.

Dr. Meena Kute, Registrar (Additional Charge) of SNDT Women's University delivered the Presidential Address. After tracing the history of education technology she added that if one reads the book called oneself by realizing ones potential and capabilities one can convert the knowledge into wisdom.

After the inauguration, Panel discussion on the main theme of the conference was organized. Experts were called from different sectors to participate in the discussion. Dr. Amar Jesani from health sector, Mr. Digish Rawal, legal consultant, Mr. Purv Shah, stock consultant and financial market trainer, Dr. Ranga Reddy, Vice President IEA and Dr. S. K. CHALLENGE TO CHANGE

begining on 17th May 2021 till.....

Most of the time, change is avoidable and comfort zones are preferred .
However , the pandemic brought huge changes for each and everyone of us in different ways , for some it's bodily change and for some mental change . Don't you think this change should be embraced and pushed a further inch ?

The ever so peppy FN department is excited to present the "Challenge to Change " program. Open to ladies of all age groups , because changes occur at every stage in life .

What does it involve? Every week a challenge will be presented to you for changing small habits only to end up making it valuable and enriching . Six days of sincere work from Monday to Saturday only to face a new challenge on Sunday! All challenges will revolve around healthy habits only. Absolutely no judgement will be passed on here as it is a safe space for your overall growth . A simple effort to report the successful completion of a given challenge will only help us record the optimistic outcomes .

To join these challenges , fill the google form provided link
https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLScqPCxrVG9lxvU4tguBRVAiqhi9D0-EAHJ6PxHNXyJviDaxF7A/vjiewform?usp=sf_

Who can join ? ALL can join - student's , mothers , teachers and families (Ladies only). We cannot escape change. But the lessons of change can be learnt involuntarily .Those who succeed in these challenges will be able to cope with changes and will be able to embrace CHANGE!

About the Seminar :

“It is not the strongest of the species that survive, nor the most intelligent, but the ones most responsive to change.”
– Charles Darwin

Digitalization is a modern day wave sweeping over every segment of the world, be it media, arts, economics, business, education or governance. The nature of the world is fast transforming in this stream of digitalization. As this new reality envelops us, it is crucial to explore its complex nature and evaluate its far-reaching psychological, behavioural, social, cultural, economic and political consequences. Digitalization holds within it the promise of a democratized era of increased accessibility, borderless interaction, efficient interaction and ceaseless innovation. And yet, this emerging trend is not without its shortcomings and pitfalls. Thus, this defining phenomenon of the 21 century demands a critical scrutiny by the sharpest researchers and thinkers to deliver a deeper understanding of contemporary digital society and chart a path to navigate its tricky terrain.

Aims/ Objectives:

- To discuss digital innovations taking place, their Pros and Cons and its impact across various disciplines.
- To open new avenues for student research in digital space.
- To utilize digital media for a better understanding of the society.
- To emphasize the fact that transition is the need of the hour for transforming the society with digitalization.

Sub themes include:

Digitalization and Governance
Digitalization and Economic Growth
Digitalization and Development (Individual and Social)
Digital Banking and Financial Services
Application Uses and Development
Digitalization and the Marketplace from Conglomerates to Start Ups
Digitalization and Media
Digitalization and Education

Abstract: In today’s era millennials are caught in the trap of mobile phone addiction which has pervasive effects. The present study would examine the mobile phone addiction among 149 individuals between 16 to 30 years of age. For the purpose of data collection, the tools used were: UCLA Loneliness Scale Version 3, Subjective Vitality Scale, Sense of Agency Scale. The study also consists of total amount of data usage of the individual in the past 3 months and the number of hours of sleep per 24 hours. To verify the hypotheses of the study, statistical analysis used were Descriptive Statistics and Simple Correlation. Results found out were interesting which suggested that as the sense of loneliness increases, subjective vitality decreases. The sense of agency, increases with S.V. as age increases, usage of phone decreases. Besides what we have found, what is equally relevant is what we haven't found. This study began with the assumption that people spend a lot of time with their mobiles and this is either the cause or the effect of their loneliness. However, as the results indicate, the total usage of data has had no relation with any of the three psychological variables.

Key Words: Mobile Phone Addiction, Loneliness , Subjective Vitality , Sense Of Agency , Hours Of Sleep . Data usage.

INTRODUCTION

Worldwide technology and its changes play a major role in each individual’s life. The current trend of the society is to adopt every change in the field of communication technology. The mobile phones are boon of this century. Mobile phone is considered as an important communication tool and has become the integral part of the society, it is not only a communication device but it also a necessary social accessory. People are increasingly using mobile phones rather than the fixed telephones. The cell phone today is a lifeline for many. It is estimated that around 4.5 billion people use the cell phone worldwide. And it comes as no surprise that a huge chunk of this quantity consists of the youth. The cell phone is more of a necessity for them than a luxury. Umpteen number of surveys conducted on the youth worldwide have figured out that they consider cell phones an integral part of survival. The risk of cell phone addiction is a social and psychological problem which has been proposed by psychologists, psychiatrists, and educational supervisors. Previous studies have highlighted that psychological attributes like Damage to interpersonal skills and harmful psychological effects are strongly associated with people who use mobile phone excessively. A study was conducted on 150 individuals of an age group between 16 to 30 years to find the relationship between mobile phone addiction, subjective vitality, sense of agency and loneliness. Smartphone addiction involves a compulsive overuse of the mobile phones, usually quantified as the number of times users access their devices and/or the total amount of time they are online over a specified period (Rouse, M. May, 2018). The concept of subjective vitality refers to the state of feeling alive and alert—to having energy available to the self. Vitality is considered as an aspect of eudaimonic well-being (Ryan & Deci, 2001), as being vital and energetic is part of what it means to be fully functioning and psychologically well. The sense of agency has been defined as the sense that the individual is the one who is causing or generating an action or a certain thought in my stream of consciousness. As such, one can distinguish actions that are self-generated from those that are generated by others, giving rise to the experience of a self-other distinction in the domain of action which, in turn, contributes to the subjective phenomenon of self-consciousness. Comprehensively defined, loneliness is the absence or perceived absence of satisfying social relationships, accompanied by symptoms of psychological distress that are related to the actual or perceived absence (Young,1982). The study also consists of total amount of data usage of the individual in the past 3 months and the number of hours of sleep per 24 hours. The amount of data usage was taken into account to seek a quantitative measure of mobile phone usage or the amount of online access of the individuals. The amount of sleep was also considered as past studies have highlighted a disturbance in sleep or deterioration of the sleep quality due to the use of mobile phone.

LITERATURE REVIEW

Smartphone Addiction is one of the most recent and burning issue in today's era. The average smartphone user checks their device 47 times a day / 17,155 a year. Conversation killer! 85% of smartphone users will check their device while speaking with friends and family,80% of smartphone users check their phone within 1 hour of waking or going to sleep, 35% of which will do within 5 minutes. Several Variables are thought to be related to Smartphone addiction like Damage to interpersonal skills and harmful psychological effects, Davey, S., & Davey, A. (2014). The Variables Under Study in the present paper are Smartphone Addiction, Subjective Vitality, Sense of Agency, Loneliness and Sleep. It is hypothesized that there will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Subjective Vitality, Smartphone Addiction and Sense of Agency, Smartphone Addiction and Loneliness and Smartphone Addiction and Sleep. These following literature reviews attempt to demonstrate and support the hypothesis. In a study by Parasuraman, S., Sam, A. T., Yee, S., Chuon, B., & Ren, L. Y. (2017) variables like Smartphone usage and increased risk of addiction were addressed. The study aimed to study the mobile phone addiction behavior and awareness on electromagnetic radiation (EMR) among a sample of Malaysian population. A study focused on the variables mobile impact and effect of it Student academic performance by Soyemi, Jumoke & S.A., Oloruntoba & Okafor, Blessing. (2015). in Nigeria. Findings indicated that students are influenced negatively to a great extent by the mobile phone because attention is focused on chatting, music and others while their academic activities are neglected and left to suffer. Also, this study discovered that the use of mobile phone is uncontrollable among students which are the leading cause of poor academic performance among students. The study participants were aware about mobile phone/radiation hazards and many of them were extremely dependent on smartphones. One-fourth of the study population were found having feeling of wrist and hand pain because of smartphone use which may lead to further physiological and physiological complication. In the research article by AKIN, Ahmet. (2012), the variables addressed were Internet Addiction, Subjective Vitality and Subjective Happiness. According to the results, subjective vitality and subjective happiness were negatively predicted by Internet addiction. On the other hand, subjective happiness was positively predicted by subjective vitality. In addition, subjective vitality mediated the relationship between Internet addiction and subjective happiness. In another research paper by Ambhore, A. M. & Puri, P. A. (2018), the variables addressed were mobile phone addiction and loneliness amongst youths. For the purpose of the study youths 60 college going students (30 male and 30 females) select from Aurangabad city by using purposive sampling method. Mobile phone addiction scale and perceived loneliness scale were used for data collection. Descriptive statistics method and person product movement correlation method was used for statistics treatment. Results showed there was positive correlation between mobile phone addiction and loneliness among youths. One more research paper by White, Abbey & Buboltz, Walter & Igou, Frank (2010) addressed the variables Mobile phone use and sleep quality and sleep length in college students. Results indicate that various aspects of mobile phone use such as problem mobile phone use, addictive text messaging, problematic texting, and pathological texting are related to sleep quality, but not sleep length. Hence this wanted to ponder upon Sleep length.

Research Questions

- 1) Has Smartphone addiction contributed to decrease in subjective vitality amongst individuals?
- 2) Has Smartphone addiction contributed to decrease in sense of agency amongst individuals?
- 3) Has Smartphone addiction contributed to loneliness amongst individuals?

Aim

To determine the relationship between relationship between Smart Phone Addiction , Subjective Vitality, Sense of Agency , Loneliness and Sleep.

METHOD AND MATERIALS

Hypothesis

- 1) There will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Subjective Vitality.
- 2) There will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Sense of Agency.
- 3) There will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Loneliness.
- 4) There will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Lack of sleep.

Variables

The variables under study were

- 1) Smartphone addiction
- 2) Subjective Vitality
- 3) Sense of Agency
- 4) Loneliness
- 5) Sleep

Research Design

A quantitative correlation study was employed using survey method. A correlational study was used to find if there exists a relationship between two variables. It studied whether an increase or decrease in one variable corresponds to an increase or decrease in the other variable.

Sample and sampling design

Data was gathered from a Randomised sample of 105 college students ranging in age from 18 to 30 (M=20.06, SD=7.24) who responded to a survey which was generated using Google forms in November 2018. The Google forms were circulated and interested candidates were requested to be part of the study and were also requested to send the form to their contacts as well. Non - eligible respondents (below the age of 16 and above the age of 31). The sample consisted of 43.6 % Male respondents and 56.4% of Female respondents (Male=65, Female=84).

Instrumentation

UCLA SCALE OF LONELINESS VERSION 3- A 20-item scale designed to measure one's subjective feelings of loneliness as well as feelings of social isolation. Participants rate each item on a scale from 1 (Never) to 4 (Often).

This measure is a revised version of both the original UCLA Loneliness Scale and the Revised UCLA Loneliness Scale. The first revision was done to make 10 of the 20 original items reverse scored. The second revision was done to simplify the scale so less educated populations could comprehend it (see other UCLA Loneliness Scale pages on this website). The measure has high internal consistency (coefficient alpha = .96) and a test-retest correlation over a two-month period of .73.

Subjective Vitality Scale- Individual difference level version- Ryan and Frederick (1997) developed a scale of subjective vitality that has two versions. One version is considered an individual difference. In other words, it is an ongoing characteristic of individuals which has been found to relate positively to self-actualization and self-esteem and to relate negatively to depression and anxiety.

Sense of Agency scale by Tapal, A., Oren, E., Dar, R., & Eitam, B. (2017)- The structure of the Sense of Agency scale is two-factor confirmatory model. SoPA, Sense of Positive Agency, SoNA, Sense of Negative Agency. Reliability estimates computed using the new data, with reliability estimated at (McDonald's) $\omega = 0.80$ (95% CI = 0.76, 0.83) and $\omega = 0.75$ (95% CI = 0.67, 0.79) for the SoPA and SoNA, respectively. The scale also remotely measures aspects like General self-efficacy, Physical self efficacy, Locus of control while beliefs in free will were moderately related to the SoPA subscale and their relationship to the SoNA subscale was substantially weaker. This pattern suggests that SoPA is more related to philosophical concepts of personal autonomy and responsibility than Sona. Hebrew versions of the instruments were used in the study.

Methods Used for Data Analysis

To verify the hypotheses of the study statistical analysis used Descriptive Statistics and simple Correlation.

RESULT ANALYSIS AND FINDINGS

The main aim of the study was conducted to find the relation between Smartphone addiction, Subjective Vitality, Sense of agency, Loneliness among college students in Mumbai. The sample size was 149 with both males and females. The mean of total gigabyte usage was 26.35 (SD= 25.50). The mean of Total sleep found was 7.47 (SD = 1.53). The mean of Loneliness score was 42.65 (SD = 10.65). The mean of Subjective Vitality score was 28.99 (SD = 6.47). The mean of Sense of Agency score was 53.55(SD = 8.49). A detailed descriptive review of the four variables has been given in Table 1.

Table 1 shows the descriptive review of four variables

Table 1 Descriptive Statistics

	Mean	Std. Deviation	N
Age	22.13	7.24	149
TOTAL GB	26.35	25.50	149
SLEEP	7.47	1.53	149
LONELY	42.65	10.65	149
SV	28.99	6.47	149
SOA	53.55	8.49	149

A Correlational Analysis was conducted to find the Relationship between Smartphone addiction (Total GB usage), Subjective Vitality, Sense of Agency, Sensation Seeking and Sleep. It is reported in Table 2.

Table 2 Correlation

	Age	TOTAL GB	SLEEP	LONELY	SV	SOA
Age	1
TOTAL GB	-.169*	1
SLEEP	.084	.021	1
LONELY	-.185*	.045	.026	1
SV	.193*	.064	-.011	-.480	1
SOA	-.088	.051	.105	.028	.181*	1

*. Correlation is significant at the 0.05 level (2-tailed).

. Correlation is significant at the 0.01 level (2-tailed).

Results obtained showed a negative relation between Age and Total Gigabyte usage ($r = -.169$ $p < 0.01$). The results also showed a negative association between Sense of loneliness and Subjective Vitality ($r = -.480$ $p < 0.01$). The Results also showed a positive association sense of Agency and Subjective Vitality ($r = .181$ $p < 0.01$). There was no significant association found between sleep and Total GB usage and also none of the variables showed to have a significant relationship with smartphone addiction i.e. the total GB internet usage.

DISCUSSION

The results of this study are extremely interesting. The common assumptions are that youngsters are entitled, have poor sleep and have no energy because they spend too much time on their mobiles. This study questions these assumptions. For the present sample which is in the age group of 16-30, has participants who are working or studying or both or neither. One simple fact is that over a 24-hour period the average sleep they get is about 7 and a half hours. So, parents can be assured that their children are getting enough sleep. Other important findings: (1) As the sense of loneliness increases, subjective vitality decreases. (2) The sense of agency, increases with S.V. (3) As age increases, usage of phone decreases. Besides what we have found, what is equally relevant is what we haven't found. This study began with the assumption that people spend a lot of time with their mobiles and this is either the cause or the effect of their loneliness. However, as the results indicate, the total usage of data has had no relation with any of the three psychological variables. This should make us think. Are we right in jumping to conclusions about the negative impact of mobile phone use in youngsters? Perhaps we may be rushing to judge. Hence, we should consider the mobile and the internet not just as evil inventions of technology but allies in the search for self-mastery and empowerment. This study is also an eye-opener for us because it is throwing up some interesting questions. Although not the initial plan of the study, we did do a comparison between genders. There is no difference in the usage in terms of GB between males and females. Along with the traverse effects of Smartphone one such paper discussed also on the positive effects of it which was by Sarwar, Muhammad & Soomro, Tariq. (2013) they put forth through the study that the concept of "use it or lose it" principle in Psychology is very old and according to this concept the key to keep your brain functioning in its peak condition throughout your life lies in its smart use. The smart use of Smartphone will increase your brain function instead of using the Smartphone only for entertainment it could be used to access useful information, interacting with friends and families, while traveling, waiting on bus stop enables users to utilize such time to promote their social life. Staying connected is easier than ever, and keeping the social bonds active allows reducing stress and promises social support.

CONCLUSION

As per the results obtained neither of the hypothesis which stated that, there will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Subjective Vitality nor there will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Sense of Agency nor there will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Loneliness proved to be true. However, there will be a significant relationship between Smartphone Addiction and Lack of sleep have been proved.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It would also be interesting to conduct cross cultural studies of the phenomenon of usage of smartphone. Another interesting study would be to actually see the positive aspects of Smartphones on the Youth.

LIMITATIONS

While the trends observed are certainly robust, and thus can form the basis for intervention development; this study nevertheless suffers from certain short comings. The sample size was small allowing less generalizability. The chosen Sample was to the city of Mumbai, and thus, may be representative of only urban, metropolitan locations. For the purpose of this study, gender, personality, and socio-economic status were not controlled, and it would be interesting to conduct further research on the impact of these variables on the trends observed. The accurate amount of data usage was not obtained as many individuals may have either carelessly put a number or operated their smartphones through Wi-Fi.

NON-ADAPTIVE ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE LONELINESS AMONG COLLEGE STUDENTS

Miqdad Soliman and Subari T.R.
Faculty of Education, University of Al-Qadisiyah
College of Education, Al-Qadisiyah

ABSTRACT
The study aims to investigate the relationship between academic performance and loneliness among college students. The study was conducted in the College of Education, Al-Qadisiyah University. The sample consisted of 100 students. The results showed that there is a significant relationship between academic performance and loneliness. The study also found that loneliness is a major factor in academic performance. The study suggests that colleges should provide support for students who are experiencing loneliness.

KEYWORDS
Academic performance, loneliness, college students, non-adaptive performance.

INTRODUCTION
Loneliness is a feeling of being isolated or separated from others. It is a common experience for many people, especially in college. Loneliness can have a negative impact on academic performance. This study aims to explore the relationship between loneliness and academic performance among college students.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN SOCIAL MEDIA ADDICTION, SELF-ESTEEM, CONSCIOUSNESS SEEKING AND BOREDOM

Yuli Laili Feryani and An. Irfan Sidiq

ABSTRACT
This study aims to investigate the relationship between social media addiction, self-esteem, consciousness seeking, and boredom among college students.

KEYWORDS
Social media addiction, self-esteem, consciousness seeking, boredom, college students.

INTRODUCTION
Social media addiction is a growing issue among young people. It is characterized by excessive use of social media platforms, leading to negative consequences such as decreased self-esteem, increased consciousness seeking, and boredom. This study aims to explore the relationship between these variables among college students.

CONCLUSION
The study found a significant relationship between social media addiction, self-esteem, consciousness seeking, and boredom. The results suggest that colleges should provide support for students who are experiencing social media addiction.

Variable	Mean	SD
Social Media Addiction	3.50	0.80
Self-Esteem	2.80	0.60
Consciousness Seeking	3.20	0.70
Boredom	3.00	0.70

CONCLUSION
The study found a significant relationship between social media addiction, self-esteem, consciousness seeking, and boredom. The results suggest that colleges should provide support for students who are experiencing social media addiction.

Instructions to the participants

We the students of MNWC are constructing a psychometric scale as a part of our MA psychology program, your presence is most welcomed and your contribution in the same will be highly appreciated. Please note that we require mothers who are home makers. You will be asked a few questions, there are no right or wrong answers to the questions, they are completely based on your daily experiences and circumstances. Confidentiality of the responses will be maintained. Your participation in the study is completely voluntary and you may opt to withdraw from the study at any point of time. Please fill the following form if you agree to participate in the study and are in the age group of 30 to 50 only and are a homemaker as well as a mother.

The questionnaire has 20 items and will take 10 minutes of your time. The information provided by you will be kept confidential and will only be used for academic research purposes. There are no foreseeable risks associated with participating in this study. Since the responses will be reported as group data, personal information will not be reviewed or revealed and anonymity will be maintained. Your participation in this study is completely voluntary and greatly appreciated. If you feel uncomfortable at any point during the study, you may choose to withdraw your participation.

For any queries, you may email us at stutirs20@gmail.com.

By clicking on the "I agree" button below, you agree and acknowledge that: you have read the above information, your participation in the study is voluntary and you have given consent for participation in the study.

ACTIVITY REPORT FORMAT

YEAR: 2022-2023

NAME OF THE ACTIVITY: Dupatta Painting Competition

DD/MM/YY: 23rd September 2022 TARGET GROUP: B.Design and Advance Diploma

NAME OF FACULTY: Ms. Nidhi Soni

NO OF STUDENTS: B.design -22 Advance Diploma 45

SPEAKER/RESOURCE PERSON (WITH DESIGNATION):

VENUE: Nanavati School Hall

TIME: 1 to 5pm

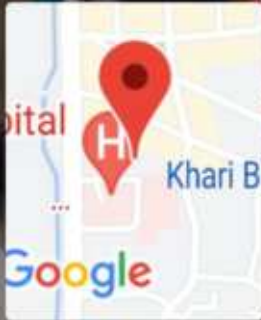

OBJECTIVES: Student's learn more about selfless devotion. Such events revive us about the sacrifices of the soldiers and makes us realize how grateful we are of them.

METHODOLOGY: Students were given a dyed dupatta and were asked to embellish on it either with block print or painting or any other decorative material.

OVERVIEW: The Dupatta painting competition was not only an activity for the students but also, an opportunity to give something back to the families of the soldiers who have dedicated their lives to the country. The competition was basically to honor the wives of the soldiers whom we called as the 'widow warriors'. The activity of painting the Dupatta's showed the creative minds of the student's and encouraged them to make a beautiful product. Students were provided with Dupatta's of different color's which were pastels and fabric paint was also provided. Later, the Dupatta's were showcased to the judge's and all student's did a little fashion show where the judge's picked some of the best designs and the student's won prices accordingly. Judges were very impressed with the outcome of the competition and that the competition was a successful experience for everyone.

OUTCOME: While this activity brought a smile on everybody's faces we know that the outcome was very positive. All we could see was how the students were so engrossed in doing their work with so much of love and dedication which was very peaceful. The students were also happy as this was an act of selfless devotion.
