1. To celebrate World Disability Day.
2. To understand the types of disability
3. To create awareness about disabled people around us.
4. To understand the challenges faced by the disabled people through skit.

METHODOLOGY: Skit

OVERVIEW: Divyangjan Cell- An IQAC Initiative in collaboration with Department of Child Development celebrated World Disability Day on 22nd December 2022 at Maniben Nanavati Women’s College. The event began at 10am in backyard with a warm welcome of college students followed by a brief introduction given by the narrator. A short skit was acted by CD students where the students portrayed challenges faced by visually challenged, auditory challenged, orthopedically challenged and learning disability people. The play depicted a lot of eye-opening questions and awareness among the students and teachers. In the end pledge was taken by everyone “Having Disability is not a problem. Having a bad mentality is a problem”. Let’s Change our mentality and stand together beside them. Later chocolates were given to audience and bookmarks were distributed to principal ma’am, teachers and to office staff to spread awareness about World Disability Day.

OUTCOME: Through the skit students understood that there are different types of disability that exists. Disability is not only physically handicap but it also about visual, audio and learning disability which is often neglected by people. In today's world learning disability is often ignored and not recognized. Students also got to know life and challenges of disabled people face in the society and how as individuals they can support them to live a better life.
